Comments

“ Through all these years of family/friend get-togethers, I didn't get to know Paul really well. We did share a few jokes, smiles and recollections of our families and our children. Those recollections made his smile grow and brighten. His pride wasn't about himself, but of how his family grew, were nurtured and truly love each other. And you always will. God bless you Mary, kids and grandkids. I've felt the hurt, but no one really knows your pain. I truly hope this message will help...

“Nothing you love is lost. Not really. Things, people—they always go away sooner or later. You can't hold them anymore than you can hold moonlight. But if they've touched you, if they're inside you, then they're still yours. The only things you ever really have are the ones you hold inside your heart.” Bruce Coville
